'perfect gateway to an exotic african paradise...'

Set on a fabulous 6 kilometres white, sandy palm fringed beach, cooled by the ocean breeze, it is the perfect gateway to an exotic african paradise. The owners are very particular in using indigenous products in building the lodge with as little harm to the surrounding area as possible.

In keeping with this eco friendly approach they are currently trying to secure the area as a marine sanctuary.

location

Hakuna Majiwe is situated in Domocuchu, near Paje on the South East Coast of Zanzibar. It is about an hour and a quarter drive from Stone Town.

restaurants & bars

Cuisine is a blend of Italian, local food and international. Breakfast is served from the buffet which consists of local fruits, breads, cereals and eggs. Lunches and dinners are from an a la carte menu. As with all Italians, they are very particular about their food quality. The lodge's local chef, Agi, is the specialist in the local cuisines and vegetarian meals, whilst Claudio who comes from a restaurant background prepares the Italian specialties, fish and Japanese Sushi. Dining here is excellent.

You also have the option of walking to a variety of restaurants and pubs in the area, should you wish to go out and find local alternatives.

families

Hakuna Majiwe is a family orientated resort.

romance

This quaint hotel is located in charming surroundings. The owners have brought style and ambiance to their lodge which is apparent in the décor and cuisine.
